ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

FREELANCE WRITING FOR DUMMIES is a two-day workshop that takes the freelance writer-wannabe through the whats, whys, whens, and hows of freelance writing in the Philippines. It will tackle the myths, the realities, and the possibilities that make freelance writing intriguing, challenging, and—ultimately—fun. Whether one seeks to freelance part-time or full-time, this workshop will show that a freelance writing career can be rewarding.

Who should join?

- Anyone who is considering writing freelance—whether part-time or full-time—and would like to get “tips from the trenches.”
- Part-time freelance writers who are looking to build full-time writing careers
- Students and young professionals who would like to keep their options open

Who is conducting the workshop?

The workshop will be facilitated by Niña Terol, a full-time freelance writer, communications consultant, and emerging social entrepreneur who writes for a living and writes because she loves it. She is a regular contributor for MEGA Magazine and has also written for Philippine Daily Inquirer, myHome, Entrepreneur Philippines, Smart Parenting, Cosmo Philippines, Pinoy World, and Starfish, among others. She has also worked with a large number of corporations, enterprises, non-profit organizations, and government agencies—allowing her to immerse fully in her craft and all its nuances. To view Niña’s current profile, log on to <http://ninaterol.wordpress.com>.
